Circle Forms

circleforms.net

Google forms alternative for a rythm game called osu!.
Developed in a team of 5 (2 front, 2 back, design)

- helped migrate code from JS to TS
- simplified interaction with c# backend using OpenAPI Generator
- refactored creation of new forms
- implemented the ability to edit existing forms
- wrote unit and e2e tests

You can check out some of the functionality on github
(so you don't have to register):

Wiki Speedrun

wikispeedrun.org

The goal of the game is to navigate from a starting wikipedia article to another one, in the least amount of clicks and time.
